4 recalls listed by Transport Canada for this model year

Lights and instruments

2018029 15 Jan 2018

On certain vehicles, the instrument cluster could go blank intermittently and be unable to display important information. This could result in the driver not being aware of vehicle speed or any malfunction lights turning on, which could affect vehicle performance and increase the risk of a crash causing injury and/or damage to property. Correction: Dealers will update the vehicle software. Note: This recall is an expansion of recall 2017-524.

Lights and instruments

2017524 26 Oct 2017

On certain vehicles, the instrument cluster could go blank intermittently and be unable to display important information. This could result in the driver not being aware of vehicle speed or any malfunction lights turning on, which could affect vehicle performance and increase the risk of a crash causing injury and/or damage to property. Correction: Dealers will update the vehicle software.

Fuel system

2017234 27 Apr 2017

On certain vehicles equipped with a 2.0L diesel engine, the fuel return hose could leak. This could cause a the fuel to leak onto the road surface which can present a skid hazard to other road users increasing the risk of a crash causing injury and/or damage to property. A fuel leak in the presence of an ignition source could also cause a fire. Correction: Dealers will replace the fuel return hose.

Powertrain

2017128 9 Mar 2017

On certain vehicles equipped with an automatic transmission, an incorrect rear driveshaft may have been fitted at time of assembly. This could cause an oil leak, vibration, or potentially result in the driveshaft separating from the differential, causing a loss of motive power and increasing the risk of a crash causing injury and/or damage to property. Correction: Dealers will inspect the driveshaft and replace as necessary.
